

Colloquium articles

The role of the significant person in religious writings
J S du Toit, A Lamprecht, & N F Schmidt.....307-314

Rabbinic theology as hermeneutic activity: the topic of angels in defence of monotheism
G E Lier.....315-328

The many faces of the Buddha
V Sasson.....329-343

Dividing one by zero: hyperreality in the Hebrew Bible and “The Matrix”
J W Gericke.....344-366

Research articles

A new view of the Mamluk navy
V Christides.....367-393

A comparison of the Qumran community and Hare Krishna movement regarding motivations for separation from mainstream religion as cults of purity and holiness
G B Dennill & J A Naudé.....394-422

South African higher education and Near Eastern Studies (1): Some issues in the assessment of student learning
J S du Toit.....423-442

Aspects of Ezekiel 1:14 in angelological texts found at Qumran
A Evans.....443-464

“Aramaizing” in the LXX: bilingual interference and trilingual lexical identity
R Gauthier.....465-483

The so-called nominative uses of פִּנְיָ: a semantic solution
J H Kroeze.....484-516

A comparative analysis of Tannaitic and Amoraic exegeses on Genesis 1:26-27
G E Lier.....517-552

Guabba, the Meluhhan village in Mesopotamia
P S Vermaak.....553-570

Putting the past of the Muslim Brotherhood into perspective
N Voges.....571-590

Strategies applied by interpreters of the paradox in Proverbs 26:4-5
W van Heerden.....591-617